Orientation to the Maine State Library

The Maine State Library serves as the "Area Reference and Resource Center" (ARRC) to all libraries in the Central Maine Library District. As your ARRC the Maine State Library provides backup reference service, interlibrary loan, books-by-mail, large print, and talking books.

If you are new to your library or wish to become more familiar with the State Library and its offerings, you are invited to a special 2 1/2 -hour orientation on January 11, 2005 (snow date January 12) at 9:30 in the morning. This will be an opportunity to meet other library staff from the Central Maine Library District (CMLD) and meet State Library staff involved with programs which affect your library. We will also review the programs and services available to you through the CMLD office, tour the State Library, and introduce some of the folks you may have spoken with on the phone.

Reserve the date: January 11th
[snow date January 12]
